COUNTRY IS HELPLESS
Appeals to Powers, but There Is No Indication of Intervention.

London, July 24.—Without declaring war and apparently trusting that the jealousies of the powers will prevent European interference, Turkey has begun an invasion of Bulgaria. The Turks have occupied and burned the villages on the Jamboul Road, and it is reported have pushed their recon-

No information has been received as to the strength of the forces that have crossed the frontier. Probably they are only comparatively small bodies of Enver Bey's cavalry. Some skirmishing has occurred on the frontier, but seemingly the Bulgarians have offered serious resistance.

In Vienna, it is reported that the Turks have crossed the Bulgarian frontier in three places, by the Maritza and the Danube, as well as in the direction of Jamboul.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has protested to the powers, and appealed for European intervention, but there is no sign that Europe will act. Both Greece and Serbia are throwing obstacles in the way of an armistice, while pushing their attacks in the direction of Sofia.

It is reported Rumania has warned Serbia and Greece that if they continue their advance, the Rumanian army will be ordered to occupy Sofia first.

Appeals to Powers. Sofia, July 21.—King Ferdinand today summoned representatives of the powers to the palace, and addressed them as follows:

"I am anxious to protest before Europe against the outrageous action of the Turkish army, which, not content with violating the treaty of London, is engaged in invading the old territory of my kingdom. In the direction of Tirnova, Skopje and Jamboul, and is giving itself up to the most frightful excesses, burning villages, massacring inhabitants and spreading panic throughout Thrace."

"I cannot believe that the great powers who signed the diplomatic compact now being trodden under foot, can look with indifference on what is being done to-day, and remain impassive under the insult placed upon them, and to the crimes of which we are the victims. In the distress in which the Bulgarian nation finds itself, I have appealed on its behalf before the representatives of civilization, and beg them, through your intermediacy, to put an end to this suffering of people feeling before the return of their old oppressors."

The "insurgent" amendments would begin by reforming the proposed Federal reserve bank. They would authorize a board of nine members, including the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Agriculture, the Comptroller of the Treasury and six members appointed by the President. Of these nine would be "a person experienced in banking and general business," one "a bona fide representative of industrial labor" and one "a bona fide representative of agriculture."

Forbidden to Hold Stock. Excepting for the banking members of the board, all would be forbidden to hold stock in any bank or trust company or concern. "The security or paper of which may be handled by any of the members under this law."

Another provision would provide that ex-presidents of the United States should be deemed ex-officio members of the board.

The amendments would increase the term of paper rediscountable in the Federal Reserve Bank from 90 days, as at present proposed by the Glass bill, to 120 days, and would include in the rediscountable paper, farm mortgages. The amendments would continue the Glass bill provision for a reserve of 33 1/3 per cent of the bank's total liabilities.

The amendments would provide for an issue of "United States notes" of not to exceed $700,000,000, in addition thereto a sum equal to the difference between the total amount of national bank notes outstanding at any one given moment and the amount of such notes outstanding at the passage of this act."

These notes would be redeemed in gold at the Treasury or at any Federal reserve bank.

An important feature of the amendment would provide for the division of this new currency into three separate groups for three individual purposes—$300,000,000 in distinctive "United States" currency, $200,000,000 in distinctive "United States" agricultural currency, and $200,000,000 in distinctive "United States" industrial currency.

The commercial currency would be issued to the reserve bank, and the industrial currency through the reserve banks to the "States and Territories" upon legally authorized State or Territorial bonds and county and municipal bonds, which would be sold and endorsed by the State or Territory.

WORK OF BATTALION IS HIGHLY PRAISED
this accounts for the excellent health of the men, and the great amount of work that has been steadily accomplished.
Major Bowles has named the camp in honor of Captain O. Jennings Wise, a captain of the Blues, who was killed in the battle of Roanoke Island in 1862. To-night a light rain fell. The battalion will break camp and entrain for Richmond on Sunday morning.

Fine Military Spirit Shown by Blues at Camp O. Jennings Wise.
Camp O. Jennings Wise, Basic City, Va., July 24.—Lieutenant Elmer Rice, United States Army, an instructor at West Point Military Academy, and the United States Inspector-Instructor at the Blues' camp, is outspoken in his praise of the officers and men of the battalion, whose work, he says, shows a fine military spirit.
Camp life has been rigorous, and there is none of the frolic which the civilian imagines is a large part of the militia service. From daybreak to sunset there are numerous duties to perform, including manoeuvres, drill, parades and guard mount, and so when night comes officers and men are, for the most part, glad to get under the tent where the army cots seem like feather beds to the weary.
The nights have been very cool, and Burned to Death.—Charles M. White, well driller, was burned to death; five of his fellow-workmen were probably fatally injured, and an oil well two miles south of Tulsa was set afire late to-day as the result of an explosion which occurred when the flames of a match, with which a youth was lighting a cigarette, came in contact with gas escaping from the well.

Finkham Nominated.—Washington, July 24.—President Wilson to-day nominated Finkham, of Hawaii, to be Governor of Hawaii.

Isn't it the Strangest
Thing in the world that men will neglect making their wills, when they know, if they were to die, the people they intend shall have their property won't get it?
Oh, yes!—they all INTEND to make a will as soon as they have time—but they may put it off until it is too late!
Think about this.
